End Specific Kit Refurbishment

The UJ Consortium is pleased to announce the launch of a range of end specific refurbishment kits which will be called Ferrule Kits. The Ferrule Kits will contain the piece-parts used mainly in the ferrule pressing section of the cable end preparation and are identical to those in the appropriate End Specific Kit. In the event that a problem occurs during ferrule pressing and the cable end has to be re-prepared, spare parts can be used from the Ferrule Kit rather than broaching another End Specific Kit. Although the contents of the Ferrule Kits are very similar to those in the SUP Kits for the same cable type, only Ferrule Kits can be used for refurbishment as all the parts are system quality. SUP Kits must only be used for training purposes (UJC Bulletin 030 refers).

Ferrule Kits will be available for purchase from 1st December 2007 and the below list gives details of the range. At the same time, the end specific kit bills of materials will be rationalised to remove any duplicated components.

Customers are strongly advised to ensure that they have sufficient Ferrule Kits available for the particular cable type being repaired.
